

Be an Apprenticeship Ambassador Tell your stories, so others can find theirs

We are looking for current, or recently qualified apprentices with the ambition to inspire others.

You will learn to share your apprenticeship experience, making young people aware of the opportunities out there by talking in schools and colleges.

You will inspire others by:

- Describing what an apprenticeship is
- Promoting apprenticeships as a valued and respected career path
- Telling your apprenticeship story and experience

The half-day training will explore and develop skills in:

- Public speaking
- Holding and engaging an audience
- Answering questions
- Telling your story

Benefits of becoming an apprenticeship ambassador:

- Develops your confidence and interpersonal skills
- Underpins your abilities to communicate and articulate
- Demonstrates a wider set of skills to promote your employer and their business
- Recognition – joining part of local network

If you would like to become an apprenticeship ambassador, please contact Trish Varndall at Apprenticeships in Sussex – trish.varndall@apprenticeships-in-sussex.com